MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD ON SUNDAY NOV. 11

The Memorial Hall was filled almost to capacity Sunday evening on occasion of the Armistice Memorial Service.

The joint service was conducted by Rev. T. B. Winter, of the Anglican Church; Rev. J. N. Wilkinson, of the United Church; and Rev. W. H. Muncester, Hon. Capt. and Chaplain.

The combined choir, rendered some very excellent music.

The anthem "Recessional" was very fine. The chorus parts being well sustained, and Mr. C. A. Lydell, in the solo parts, being in excellent voice. His solo, "The Phantom Legion" was also sung with much expression.

Rev. Capt. Muncester's sermon was a very practical one, and was attentively listened to throughout.

The hymns were well chosen and sympathetically sung, the audience fully sensing the anniversary and its history.

Coming Events

The Chautauqua will be at Strathmore on November 15, 17, 19 and 20.

The School Concert will be held on December 20. Remember the date.

The Annual Masquerade Dance at Nightingale has been postponed from November 15th to November 16th. Please make note of the change.

Hirtz Theatre, Friday and Saturday, November 16th and 17th. Val Lee Bevis and Raymond Hatter, in "Now We're in the Air".

Don't forget the Anglican Church Bazaar on December 1st.

The annual general meeting of the Strathmore Curling Club will take place in the Memorial Hall on Friday, November 23rd, at 6 p.m. This will be followed by a banquet and musical evening at 7 p.m., at which the presentation of cups won last season will be made. All ladies and gentlemen interested in curling are cordially invited to be present. A good time will be assured. A small charge will be made to help defray expenses.

The meeting of the I.O.D.E. which was to have been held on November 19th, has been postponed until November 25th. Please remember the change.

The Late Harold Horrocks

Harold Horrocks was the only surviving son of James and Alice Horrocks. He was born at Manchester, England, and was 19 years of age at the time of his death. He came out with his mother and grandparents to join his father.

He received his early education at the Strathmore School; later he was at the Strathmore High School, obtaining his junior matriculation. This year he graduated as a twelfth student from the Old School of Agriculture, and had made arrangements to take agriculture at the University of Alberta.

He was of great assistance on the

CATHOLIC BAZAAR WAS A SUCCESS

The Tombola and Bazaar, planned and carried out by the members of the Sacred Heart Church, was a most successful event, almost nine hundred dollars being realized from the various booths and the supper.

The Hall presented a very animated appearance.

The home cooking table presided over by Mrs. McFarland and Mrs. Klidde displayed some very tempting dishes for sale.

The fancy work booth was in charge of Mrs. Van Tighem and Mrs. Geo. Quirin, and here was a lovely array of articles, useful, and at the same time ornamental.

The Fish Pond was in the charge of Mrs. D. N. Gardiner, and the Punch Board by Mrs. Van Wazer.

Mrs. Callaghan was in charge of the supper tables, while Mrs. Helinger, Mrs. Moran, and Mrs. Giroux kept the busy waitresses supplied with the good things from the kitchen.

Measrs. Schulte, Van Tighem and Quirin conducted a Bingo Booth which found a constant throng of adventurers, as most men (and women) have innate the desire to "get a bar bet".

Most luring of all was the dining room, where tables had gone forth that the ladies were serving a most "wonderful supper" all for "four bits". This statement proved to be no exaggeration, and the tables were filled with guests.

The Sacred Heart Church Bazaar and Chicken Supper was a splendid success in every respect. The committee in charge wish to express their sincere thanks to all who so generously patronized them. The winners of the Tombola prizes were as follows: No. 1, gentleman's watch, A. Garity, Blackie; No. 2, club bag, Mr. De Wolfe, Calgary; No. 3, auto rug, Frank Steele, Landon; No. 4, lady's wrist watch, Mrs. C. J. Akkerman, Olds; No. 5, knives and forks, L. Lee, Bassano; No. 6, ten dollar bill, piano cover, R. E. Richards, Calgary; No. 8, carving set, Mrs. Melrose, Strathmore; No. 9, bridge lamp, Miss Nellie Barron, Langdon; No. 10, ten dollar gold piece, Mrs. Van de Mere, Calgary; Doll, No. 1, C. N. Strine, Strathmore; Doll, No. 2, R. Jacobs, Nightingale.

POLICE OFFICE RAISED

BERLIN—A sensational attempt was made last night to steal from Berlin Police Headquarters the records of the investigation of the attempted war bond swindle, in which Hugo Stinnes, Jr. is now out on bail accused of being one of the leaders.

The burglers managed to open the office of Commissioner Hasso, chief investigator, but were foiled because a large bookcase containing a number of local papers had been placed with its back against the door.

farm to his parents—the more work he could do, the better he liked it. He was Vice-president of the Junior T.F.A. District Association, and was always ready to help for any betterment.—Contributed.

Local Jottings

The Canadian Pacific Supply Firm held an Auction Sale at Regina last week and dispensed with forty-eight head from their big Holstein herd at an average price of $292.00.

Mrs. Evelyn L. Knusz has arrived in town and will direct the Chautauqua work on November 15, 16, 17 and 18. Mrs. Mary Bell Mackay has gone to Rockyford where she will direct the work in that town.

Among the week end visitors for Thanksgiving at the home of the Harvey brothers, were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harvey, Miss Alice Harvey, Miss Marion Streeter and Mr. A. C. Gubraith, all of Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Saunders visited Cheddle on Monday.

Miss Chamberlain, who is a student at Edmonton University, spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Chamberlain.

Miss Ellen Garriot is spending a short time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Garriot, after finishing her course in the training school for nurses at the General Hospital, Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stoddard of Calgary were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klumpton on Monday, renewing an acquaintance at Winderhurst of a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pate are being congratulated upon the birth of a son.

Mrs. Ellen Way has rented her house to Lou Bentley, and will spend the winter at Scarishead a suburb of New York City.

Charles and Kym MacLean, of Calgary spent Thanksgiving with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore.

W. E. Julien has left for Dallas, Texas, by automobile, where he will spend the next six months.

An Englishman, who made a tour of Canada last summer, was pleased with conditions in general, and much impressed with the local slang words, so decided to take some of them back with him. Meeting a friend who saluted him by saying: "Good morning, how are you today?" to which he replied, "Out of sight." The Englishman thought that was a good one. Shortly afterwards a friend of the Englishman asked him how he was this morning, to which he replied, "You can't see me."

Mrs. Quirin Sr. returned to Calgary on Saturday, after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. George Quirin.

Fred J. Dunn and his Boy Scout outfit formed the guard of honor at the placing of the I.O.D.E. wreath on the monument at the Memorial Hall.

The burglers managed to open the office of Commissioner Hasso, chief investigator, but were foiled because a large bookcase containing a number of local papers had been placed with its back against the door.

George Anderson and bride were Thanksgiving visitors in town at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson.

A large number of new curlers will be signed up for the coming season. Be sure and be on hand for November 23rd, and bring anyone interested in curling.

The alarm was sounded for the fire brigade to turn out to a small conflagration at Mr. Tucker's home on the Hoffman Division. Fortunately the damage was slight.

The news was received a few days ago that Constable Harrison had been transferred to Calgary, and will be succeeded by Constable Wallace, formerly of Empress. The citizens, in general regret this transfer, as Constable Harrison had made many friends through performing his work most capably, and at the same time using excellent judgment in handling his official duties. We hope the transfer is a real promotion for the popular constable, and the Strathmore people will look forward to seeing him advance until they may address him as Inspector.

Mr. J. Elliott, Pipestone, Manitoba, spent the week end visiting his father, Fred McKenzie at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McKenzie.

"Does Spearhead lose its flavor on the Budapest overland?" It will be told at the Curriers' big event in the Memorial Hall on November 23rd.

Mrs. Della Morrison and Mr. O. P. Babbitt motored from Long Beach, California. Mrs. Morrison is here looking after business on her farm near Nanaka.

Every issue of the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal is worth the paper's subscription price to the farmers of Canada, and farmers' families rejoice in getting the addition of a superb magazine.

Miss Mildred Marum, who is on the teaching staff at Big Valley, spent Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. Marum.

Among those from Strathmore who attended the Carle's Banquet on November 23rd in the Memorial Hall were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Saunders, Ed. Coe, Cecil Lambert, Miss Scholtz, Miss Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. May. The clever work of Bob Woodrow in the Scotch reels was a real treat. Bill Saunders was a busy man acting as champion for Mike Moran and Dick Cleaver.

Have you heard that song—"I Want My Rib"? Hear it at the Curriers' shine in the Memorial Hall on November 23rd.

Bob Arthur wasn't speaking to everyone on Monday when he learned that his dog Mandy Lou had been placed first in the Alberta Derby at the High River Field Trial, and second in the Alberta Championship.

Mandy Lou was also second in the all age, Cyclone Freddie was second in the Alberta Derby. Mandy Lou defeated one dog that cost his owner $1,000, so Bob figures that Mandy Lou should be worth at least $1,500.

On Monday he received from Winnipeg two letters from Frank Welch, to be trained by him. This is Bob's reputation extending among the dog fanciers.

Farming First—The Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal, Canada's National Farm Journal, and a home magazine included. A year for a dollar or three years for $2. Wonderful!

Mrs. Fred McKenzie has gone to Okotoks to visit her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Robins.

ARMISTICE DANCE MONDAY WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL

PLACING OF WREATHS ON LOCAL CENTOPH

Monday morning at 11 o'clock, a dignified, quiet, and impressive ceremony took place in the lawn enclosure of the Memorial Hall. It was the placing of two wreaths on the centoph, one by the Boy Scouts in honor of all Scouts anywhere in the Empire the other by the Earl of Strathmore Chapter I.O.D.E. in memory of those from Strathmore and district who gave up their lives in the Great War.

The Boy Scouts formed a guard of honor in front of the Centoph.

Rev. Winter, Chaplain Canadian Legion; Mrs. Freeman, Strathmore, and Mrs. Kuyvet, and Mrs. Duns, and Southerner P. Dunn formed a simple procession from the Hall.

The prayer for such occasions being read by Rev. Winter, the wreaths were placed by Miss Kuyvet and Mr. Dunn.

The benediction was pronounced and one verse of God Save the King concluded a ceremony which was most impressive in its simplicity.

Miss Geraldine Van Tighem returned to Calgary to School Monday, after spending the week end at her home.

Mrs. Joe French arranged a couple of tables of Bridge Friday afternoon last, complicating Mrs. Campbell, formerly of Strathmore. Mrs. Sorenson was the fortunate winner of the prize. A very happy afternoon was spent.

After the Sweet little speeches that Bob Gray and Alex Gray Sr. are going to make at the Curriers' Banquet on November 23rd in the Memorial Hall when they receive their silverware.

Dr. and Mrs. Girvin, of Calgary, motored down Wednesday last to enjoy the Chicken Dinner served by the ladies of the Sacred Heart Church, and meet a number of old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Perry had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Busch and their children, Clarence and Norma, of Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, of Calgary, spent the holiday week end with their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Hughes and Miss Gladys Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Gatenby and Mr. Norman Gatenby spent Monday in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Tighem and Mr. and Mrs. A. Pierson were Calgary visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jones and son, Billy, are leaving Thursday for Winnipeg and Toronto.

The wedding took place at the Pro Cathedral, Calgary, on October 29th, of Major R. W. Fletcher, of Red Deer, Alberta, and Mrs. Flora J. Martin Urquhart, wife daughter of the late Mrs. Fred Newall, of Nightingale, Alberta. The ceremony was performed by the Very Rev. Dean Robinson. Only immediate relatives being present. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher will reside in Red Deer.

Thoroughly successful in every way was the Armistice Dance arranged by and held under the auspices of the local branch of the Canadian Legion on Monday last.

The wind, which had blown a hurricane during the afternoon, calmed and the evening was perfect, thus offering no obstacle to the elements for those who had to drive some distance.

Entering the hall one beheld an exceedingly pretty and appropriate decorative scheme, which added much to the natural beauty of the hall. Long streamers of red, white and blue ribbon, with poppies attached, were suspended from each side of the light, and a beautiful floral piece was placed at the centre.

The decorating of the stage too, was cleverly wrought, and formed a particularly effective background.

In the dining room too, softly shaded lights in "poppy" red and grey streamers and flags carried out the pretty effect.

The orchestra was in excellent form. A large number were present, and all enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Supper was served by the I.O.D.E., the committee consisting of: Mrs. M. French, convener; assisted by Mesdames Young, Spurgeon, Slater, Sorenson, Shrimpton, Van Tighem and Moore.

The evening was a complete success.

CHURCHILL ELEVATOR CONTRACT GOES TO PORT ARTHUR FIRM

OTTAWA—A contract has been awarded to C. D. Howe & Company, elevator engineers, Port Arthur, for the preparation of plans and specifications for a 1,600,000-bushel grain elevator at Port Churchill, the terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway. Tenders for construction work will be invited later.

The School Column

As Helen French, obtained fifteen points out of a possible 15 at the recent inter-school sports, it has been decided to award her a gold medal, as well as to Kathleen Reid, of Carleton Place, who obtained 17 points out of a possible 21. In order to remove such anomalies in the future, it is proposed to equalize the number of events in all classes.

A meeting of the School Fair Association will be held at 5 p.m. in the Strathmore School on Monday, November 15th. Teachers are respectfully requested to be present, and all others interested are cordially invited to attend.

Constable and Mrs. Harrison enjoyed a farewell dinner at the home of the Misses Agnes and Alice Barry on Tuesday, November 13th.

A number of friends of Mr. George Anderson took advantage of his being in town to call upon him and his bride and extend congratulations to the happy couple.

SPORT NOTES

JERRY, THE GREEK

It has been said that there is no such thing as gratitude in the prize ring, that in the lexicon of the oddity squared circle there is no such word. Not long ago a man who had once handled a champion to fame and fortune and then was forgotten said: "In the prize ring racket they never forget an injury, even a fancied one, and never recall a favor. Friendship in the boxing game? Hooley!"

Notable Exceptions

However true that may be in most cases there is at least one notable exception, and that is the staunch friendship that exists between Jack Dempsey and his faithful retainer, and second, Jerry Lavardis, "Jerry the Greek," to everybody including the champion himself.

Jerry even had a part in "The Big Fight," the play that David Belasco starred in New York with Dempsey and his wife in the stellar roles.

Ties that Bind

Almost all of the followers of fist cuffs know of the bond of attachment that exists between "Jerry the Greek"—he is given the name in the play by which he long has been known among the ring goers—and Dempsey. "The Champ," as Lavardis always calls Jack, is Jerry's god. That Dempsey appreciates his loyalty is shown by the fact that wherever Jack is you will find Lavardis. They are inseparable. Acting the second of Dempsey in the play is not acting for Jerry. It is the real thing. He has been "seconding" Jack inside and out side of the ring for many, many years.

Jerry Fights!
There are many things which endear Lavardis to Dempsey. Perhaps the not that made the Manassa Mauler's heart strings astir, the strongest happened when the old mauler went down in his Waterloo at the bluegummed blue of Gene Tunney that night of the big rain in Philadelphia.

Battered, bloody, beaten, bruised in mind and body, shorn of his championship crown, the dethroned champion forced his weary way through the downpour to his dressing room. Jack was maddled so badly that a doctor had to be summoned. But it was Jerry the Greek who did most of the nursing. Jerry rubbed and kneaded up in his ludicrous Greek way tried to laugh and joke. Suddenly throwing both arms around his beloved boss and sobbing as if his heart would break, Jerry gulped:

"You Gotta Me, Champ!"

"Neva you mite, Champ, neva you mite!" to him with the championship! "You gotta me, Champ. You gotta the forever!"

The big hairy left arm with a boulder of a fist that had sent many a foe crashing to flintic oblivion went out and around his faithful title retainer. It was Dempsey's turn to do the comforting.

A year later, when Dempsey was training at the Lincoln Field race track, he noticed Jerry snatched away from Gus Wilson a towel of Dempsey's which had inadvertently had been left on the ring ropes. Jerry was insanely jealous of "The Champ," only himself could guard Jack's personal effects.

"How He Loves Me, Gus."

They started for the dressing room. Just before they got there the ex-champion jumped at Jerry, wrapped him in a bear-like embrace and almost strangled him.

Jack Dempsey never rough-housed a fellow he didn't like. The more he likes you the more he must handle you. Considering the way he rough-housed Jerry the Greek it is a wonder poor Jerry doesn't spend more of his time in a hospital.

But Jerry understands. At Strathmore one day Dempsey got rough-housing the Greek, and in the scuffle the skin was scraped off Jerry's elbow. As Gus Wilson was bandaging up the wound Jerry convulsed every body by exclaiming excitedly:

"Gosh how he loves me! How he loves me, Gus!"

HISTORIC TOWN PLATE

WON BY WOMAN JOCKEY

NEWMARKET, Eng.—Four women jockeys and two men participated in the historic Town Plate race which first was run during the reign of Charles II, the race being captured four times by a woman.
The course, which is over four miles, was in a heavy condition because of rain. Miss Iris Rickaby, riding Bogan, was first, being followed closely by Miss Hild, on Duke de Guise. The other women jockeys were D. Saunders, on Fay Toy, and Ellen Joel, daughter of the millionaire, Sol Joel, on Peacemaker. The four women wore breeches, heavy riding boots, spurs and jockey caps.

PROPOSE MASKS FOR HOCKEY GOAL TENDERS

Putting masks on the goal tender in hockey, something similar to those worn by baseball catchers—is the latest wrinkle that is being advocated and W. H. Grant of Duluth, president of the American Hockey League, is one of its chief proponents. He attempted to put the idea over at the meeting of the National Hockey League, but failed, and expects to argue his own organization into it.

Although there have been no serious injuries incurred by the goal tender during the long history of hockey on this continent, many of the veterans carry many scars, and most of the experienced hockey players shy at going to the position, with the result there is a notable scarcity of good goal tenders.

Reports from Regina are to the effect that Irvy, who suffered a fractured skull last year with the Chicago Black Hawks, will be back in hockey again this winter. Irvy has been keeping in condition, and will make a stiff fight for a wing position. If he doesn't make the grade, he expects to play for St. Louis in the American Association, where his brother Alex is the boss.

George Smith, manager of the Toronto Leafs, will have an assistant in the new Frank Selke, manager of the Ravinas in the Canadian Pro League last season, has been obtained. The team will put in two weeks prior to the start of the training season at Port Elgin, on Lake Huron, in outdoor skating.

Rich clubs probably will start the Canadian Hockey League season—Buffalo, Toronto Falcons, Niagara Falls, London, Windsor, Detroit, Stratford and Hamilton. Considerable trading is on the boards and many new faces will be found on the various teams. Buffalo expects to show a team entirely new to the circuit, as will Niagara Falls, which is cutting away from its New York Americans connection. Most of the Toronto Falcons will consist of former Kitchener players and some of the Falcons will be found with other clubs.

The National Hockey League managers are busy in dictators. Some high level have been requested but the clubs holding the seats after stars look as if they will hang on and the clubs seeking additional material will have to go to the other league, for them.

THE TEST OF GOLF

A coward can whistle and sing along when his drivers are straight and his iron long. And the awkward duffer can wear a grin. The day that his putts are dropping in.

But golf is queer as is often said. And the best of players will lift his head. And the real test of your soul, my lad, is how do you act when your game is bad?

Work as you will, it is all the same. There will come the day when you're off the game. When you cannot drive as you know you should. And the best of your shots is far from good.

Well, in times like that is your courage stout? Do you fling your club when a putt stays out? Can you say to me as your score you tell, My game was bad but I played it well?

There is more to game than the scores you make. And the balls you win and the cups you take. The fellow who wins can always smile. But look them over, the rank and file, And the sturdies souls on the links you tread.

Aren't the boys who always come out ahead, But the ones who lose when they know they must. And still stay manly and clean and just.

They take the loss with its bitter sting. And still hold fast to the finer things. The sense of fairness and will to be fit for a good man's company. They have lost the touch which success requires.

THE SAYINGS AND DOINGS OF MANY PUBLIC MEN

George Moore: "I should be sorry, very sorry indeed, if almost all the books written today did not perish."

The Rev. H. T. Herd: "Religion is an attitude of the mind, not a mode of dress."

Roy L. Smith: "Mud slinging can not be done with clean hands."

Miss Glenna Collett: "Man cannot live by golf alone."

Berton Briley: "Politically England is a democracy. Socially England is still feudal—six tenths of the land is still owned by one-tenth of the people."

Andrew Haddon: "Good homes are even more urgently required by the Nation than good schools and they should be seen to first."

Morris J. Denny: "Men who spend their lives within the empire of business rarely learn the business of empire."

Hugh Elmer Brown: "Blessed is everything which tends to widen our sympathies."

S. Willis: "Try to do whatever you are going to be better than you think you can."

E. Howe: "The ability to save is the first evidence of common sense."

J. A. Spender: "An unskilled man in charge of a newspaper which is thought to possess authority may in their ignorance create panics which shake half the world."

Herbert Hoover: "This civilization is not going to depend upon what we do when we work so much as what we do when it is our off-time."

Joseph Fort Newton: "What we need is not amalgamation but brotherhood—a sense of the sanctity of unlikeness and the value of different races and people as adding to the richness and picturesque of life."

Harry Emerson Fosdick: "Democracy is based upon the conviction that there are extraordinary possibilities in ordinary people."

very valuable food in the treatment of pernicious anaemia.

"In the old days we were told that spinach was an excellent blood builder in that it contains a considerable amount of iron. Whipple, of New York, has shown that lean meat and liver and kidney exceed fish, spinach and other vegetables as a builder of blood."

"There has been a good deal written of recent years against meat eating. When a man becomes a vegetarian he seems to have in mind to go to the newspapers and tell everybody how much better he is as a result. The continual taste of spinach in one's mouth would drive a man to almost anything, and doubtless having made himself a martyr to it, he has a sort of religious enthusiasm to make more martyrs," writes Hon. Duncan Marshall in Family Herald and Weekly Star.

"It is high time that the whole truth about meat-eating be told, as the vegetarian enthusiasts are running away with things. For growing children meat must seem to be indispensable. The tissues of the body need constantly to be replaced or repaired, and for this replacement it is necessary to have a supply of protein in the diet and meat affords this in the best form and also in the most appetizing manner. Meat is also the best source of iron which is quite essential. It also needs to be kept in mind that maintenance of the body is not the only necessary reason for eating meat. To do his work man needs energy and it is from fats and carbohydrates that energy is produced and both of these are obtained from meat."

"As a matter of fact, the greatest races of men in the world are meat eaters. People derive best on a mixed diet, and while it may be possible to eat too much meat, it is quite as possible to eat too little. People often go for a long time in diet as in other things. The moderate course is generally the best. Meat is not only very palatable but it is also a very nutritive diet and much of the labor that goes to improve this country produces its crops, build its factories, and carry on its commerce without a very difficult to perform without a good, generous meat ration."

Slats' Diary

BY ROSS FARQUHAR

Sir Charles Ballance: "I don't want to be examined every few months. If I am sick I don't want to be scared every little while. If this movement to have everybody examined every few months goes so far that your Government examines everybody as some people want, I say it would be an indignity, on the liberties of a free people."

K. Nelson-Smith: "A pleasant speaking voice is a great asset, carrying one along the road to success. In one's business or social life, one is continually impressing who people with one's voice, either to charm or to bore them."

A HEARTY NOURISHING FOOD IS MEAT

"A few years ago it was considered that all proteins were the same. Such however, is not the case," writes Dr. W. J. B. Miller. "We know that meat proteins are much more easily digested and assimilated than vegetable proteins."

"Meats are also fairly rich in vitamins. Most fats contain an appreciable amount of vitamin A. Fresh meat contains a valuable supply of the indispensable vitamins C, and fresh meat and cured pork contain the vitamin B. Probably the most valuable source of vitamin X, which is the vitamin of reproduction is found in meat and especially in the edible glands, such as the liver and kidney. It has been proved lately that edible glands also contain valuable mineral salts, such as iron and phosphorus, which are necessary for proper blood, bone and tooth development. The liver of a man has also been proved to be a

"ON THE LEVEL, ARE YOU SELLING CHEAP?"

And the Salesman at Gatenby's replied: "WHY, WE'RE SELLING SUITS LIKE YOURS FOR SEVENTEEN DOLLARS!"

One of the humorous incidents of this store which created a sensation by launching a Selling-Out Sale—Men's $24.50 Suits go for seventeen dollars; $2.50 Shirts are offered for $1.60; 40c Socks are 3 pairs for 90c; Penman's Fleece-lined Combinations are $1.75.

A man asked Saturday: "On the level, are you selling things cheap?"

"Sell you a suit as good as the one you're wearing for seventeen dollars," said the salesman.

"Show me!"

The salesman showed him. He looked a long time, and then he said: "Well, I'll be —!"

And the Sale is showing hundreds every day. We don't expect you to believe unless you come down and see!

"The time to buy is when the other fellow wants to sell."

THIS SALE is growing because one good friend tells another, and every day we get nearer the goal.

IT'S FINE! The finest Sale we have ever seen.

CIRCUS TALK IS TABOO.

THE PLAIN FACTS are enough.

INDEED, THE FACTS have kept the store filled with buyers every day since the sale opened.

THE PURPOSE of the Sale is to turn the merchandise into money so that Mr. Gatenby can retire from business. It is not an "excuse for a sale", but a fact; and since an "open confession is good for the soul", we have told the plain, unadulterated truth about the store. Everything is marked in plain figures, and everything, including the fixtures, are to be sold.

WILLIAMS CONDEMS GRADING SYSTEM OF WHEAT AS PLAIN AND UNVARISHED ROBBERY

SASKATCHEWAN.—"I think the present grading system is plain unvarnished robbery," was the answer this morning of George H. Williams, vice-president of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, when asked for his opinion regarding the grading problem. In the course of the interview Mr. Williams told the day when farmers cooperatively would nullify their own wheat grain complete control of the produce.

"The grades now current in the country to the farmer are to my mind a fitting climax to that short-grained campaign which was carried on by certain newspapers during the summer months, enlarging upon the prospects and sending out crop reports seemingly limited only by imagination, 'which undoubtedly went a long way toward producing a bearish market,' Mr. Williams said.

"The present low grades are just putting a finishing touch to it," he pointed out. "They are taking out of western Canada millions of dollars which rightfully should remain with the people of western Canada."

"Do you think the elimination of mixing at the private terminals will solve the problem?" Mr. Williams was asked.

"That brings us to the question of the commission which has just been appointed," was the answer. "It is a pleasure to notice that both our federal and provincial governments are deeply concerned as to the grade of wheat that the British miller is getting under the present mixing system, and to note also that the Saskatchewan government has appointed a commission to investigate the market, the wheat, the personnel of which ought to satisfy the farmers of Saskatchewan."

Will Not Cure All Problems

"You have asked me to think the elimination of mixing will cure all the grading problems. Very frankly, I do not, and I hardly think any one expects it. It will, however, remove one of the outstanding evils of the grading system. But to find a cure we must go considerably further. Taking the name of the newly appointed commission as an indication of the scope I would imagine that its investigation would go considerably further than the mixing of wheat in the terminals. Personally, I am of the opinion that the average farmer is worried far more at present over the grade he is getting for his wheat than he is over the British miller's grade."

"The elimination of mixing would undoubtedly give a miller a fair standard to purchase by, and on a certain extent it would relieve under-grading in that the present milling system tends to tempt elevator companies to purchase wheat at a low grade in order to make larger milling profits. It certainly will not, however, do away with undergrading completely. No system of grading based on the appearance of wheat can remedy it. Anything but justice under certain crop conditions. I find myself this fall in company with thousands of other farmers in just this position. Wheat which yielded well over 20 bushels per acre, weighing over 60 pounds to the bushel, containing some frost kernels and a slight amount of frost, grading as No. 5—a very low grade and at a very low price. Yet in placing the wheat in the bins, tests made by Dr. Burdard, that flour milled from this wheat will be sold to the consumers, including myself as grade one flour. It must be apparent to all that wheat graded on appearance only is not going to solve the problem confronting the wheat grower of the west even if mixing were eliminated."

Farmers Should Control

Asked what the best solution of the problem, Mr. Williams replied, "I must confess that in my opinion the solution of the grading problem lies in placing the farmer in the position where he can dispense with it entirely. In other words, place the farmer in a position where he can control his wheat from the time he harvests it until it reaches the consumer in the form of flour."

"To reach this point should go into the milling business," the reporter asked Mr. Williams.

"Eventually, I think, the pool will have to go into the milling business," he replied. Asked on what he based this statement, the official said, "Well, let us presuppose for a moment that the system of grading on appearance is dispensed with and a system of grading on milling value introduced, and what is graded say first grading mill quality, second grade mill quality and third grade mill quality. It is a well-known fact that the best flour is now made from the present highest grades. It is made from a mixture of high-grade protein wheat, lower grades and wheat, corresponding in the market to number three northern. In evolving any grading system of milling value it could not be very well avoided that your present number one northern with its high protein content, while it is the best first grade mill quality, with its admixture of different protein contents, would be a much better milling wheat. In our case of wheat, it would naturally follow that the millers would buy heavily around quality milling wheat. They would then absorb the low grade of milling wheat known as third grade, and by buying a minimum of first grade, bring the lower grade up and the higher grade down to their own peculiar requirements. This would have the effect of making a drastic grade of our highest quality wheat which would tend to set the price level of the first grade at possibly a lower price than we now obtain for wheat sold to the millers on sample or under government grade certificate."

Another Angle

"Now let us consider it from another angle," Mr. Williams said, "suppose we try to avoid these conditions and we evolve a grade known as first grade milling wheat which will in reality be first grade milling wheat. In that case the wheat would have to be milled before it became of this particular milling quality. How much simpler it would be while we are striving to find a solution of our grading problem, to go right to the root of the matter and to undertake as producers and consumers to mill our own wheat. It is far from being an impossible or even a difficult development. Under the growers contract with the pool, and that charter of incorporation they lay by the power to make deductions for the purpose of acquiring flour mills and are also granted, by the act of incorporation, the power to operate flour mills."

"While it is perhaps naive from the problem, it comes to my mind that wheat is not so well blessed with industries, although we notice a tendency of the large millers to do a lean, a portion of their milling at a source of supply. To my mind agriculture is a business and like every other industry, must go ahead or go back. There is no standing still. Stagnation of necessity means decay. And while we need not expect to leap quick into the milling end of our business activity, we can most certainly expect in the same normal and gradual way as the present millers have done, to arrive at the place where we can control our wheat not only to the terminal, but to the consumer. And we shall have this assurance, that a step in the direction of 100 per cent control of our wheat, and in the solution in our grading problems.

PROFESSOR DRAWS PENSION FROM KING CHARLES

VANCOUVER, B. C.—A pension, which dates back nearly 300 years is still being paid to Dr. Francis E. Walker, associate professor of English at the University of British Columbia. The story of how Dr. E. F. Walker came to his share of the pension of gratitude from Charles II of England for a rescue from the Roundheads, was recently told by Dr. Walker.

In the year 1651, it appears, Mrs. Elizabeth Pendrell Yates, from whom Dr. Walker inherits his pension, lived with her five brothers on the Pendrell estate at Boscombe in the Midlands. She was unmarried at this time, living a quiet life and little expecting that she would be the means of performing a service to the King of England.

Charles was at this time trying to make his way to France, to escape the Roundheads, who were scouring the country for him. He had been carrying on a warfare against Cromwell and had been defeated at the battle of Worcester. While the Roundheads searched the country for him, Charles came to the Pendrell home, Elizabeth, who had never seen the "King" before, was naturally excited. When he told her why he was there and that he must be hidden from his pursuers, she called her five brothers and they discussed the question of hiding Charles in some dark corner of the house. This, however, was deemed an unwise move as they knew the Roundheads would look in the house first. At last a hiding place was decided upon. In the garden there was an old oak tree with a hollow trunk and unusually thick branches.

Elizabeth and her brothers, when he became King of England in 1660 he awarded them all annuities in perpetuity. Elizabeth's share was £20 and during the years which have elapsed since, this amount has been distributed among the succeeding members of the family, so that Dr. Walker's share is quite small. This money the doctor spends on books.

Dr. Walker has just returned from England where he visited his ancestors' home. Here he was given two little green shoots taken from what was said to be the tree in which Charles II hid.

Here it was decided was a place where Charles would be safely hidden. The "King" climbed into the tree and there he remained for a whole day while the pursuers passed and repassed beneath. After dark he climbed down and disappeared into the night.

HEARD ON THE STREET

A Scotchman is said to have eaten eight dozen oysters at a sitting. It is rumored, says the Humorist, that he found a pearl in the first oyster, and persevered in hopes of finding a neck lace.

Boss: "Yes, I want an office boy. Do you smoke?"

Boy: "No, thank you sir, but I don't mind having an ice cream cone."

Two little children were playing in the yard, when one suddenly called out:

"Look, here's a green snake!"

"Leave it alone," the other admonished, "It's probably no better than the ripe ones."

Tramp: "Lady, could you give me something to eat?"

Lady: "I know of a vacancy where you can earn your food."

Tramp: "I already have the vacancy, lady, I am just looking for someone to fill it."

A man went into a restaurant and told the waitress he wanted a couple of fried eggs and a few kind words. When she returned with his order he asked for the kind words, and she said: "Don't eat the eggs."

Teacher: "What is the total population of the world?"

Small Boy: "One and a half billions."

Little Girl: "But, please, ma'am we have a new baby brother in our house."

A tassy old fellow was making a journey on a branch line at the best not particular as to punctuality.

The train had slowed down after stopping several times. The old gentleman's patience became exhausted, and, taking out his watch he said to a fellow passenger:

"How much is this train over due?"

"Well, sir," was the reply a watch is no use; you want a calendar."

Paris Singer, of the rich sewing machine family, said at a dinner in Palm Beach:

"These are topsy-turvy days. Down in Bermuda, on the terrace of the Hamilton hotel in Hamilton, I heard an old lady say affably one balmy winter afternoon:

"It's a fine day, Miss."

"Yep, it's a fine day, all right, all right; only I ain't a miss, I'm a mister."

"Oh excuse me," said the old lady. You look so much like a boy that I took you for a girl."

Mrs. Ugrina: "This 'ere fellow thinks 'e can sing like Caruso."

Bill Wilkinson: "Well, they do say as 'er Caruso had a beautiful voice, but 'ow 'ow could they know with 'im stranded on that island with nobody but Friday to 'elp 'im?"

After a recent banquet, at which a number of the diners had made speech, as, for example, the orator, John is quite a star as an after-dinner speaker, isn't he?"

"Start!" retorted the other, "he's a regular moon—he becomes brighter the fuller he gets."

While on the subject, the latest alibi of a gent planned for driving at sixty miles an hour is that he was trying to get home before he killed somebody.

Speaking of the advance of the radio the other day Percy Parish said:

"The radio audience is being given frequent opportunities for acquaintance with the modal liturgical music of complex polyphonic structures."

"You said a mouthful," said John the Bulgarian.

Magistrate: "Are you positive the prisoner was drunk?"

Calgary Policeman: "Well, your honor, I saw him put a match in a fire alarm box and then he looked up at the City Hall clock and roared 'My Gawd, I've lost fourteen pounds.'"

"John," said a gentleman in his manservant, "I am always forgetting to bring home a lemon-squeezer from town. Will you remind me in the morning when I am starting?"

"Yes sir," said John.

Next morning the gentleman was kissing his wife goodbye at the door when John appeared on the scene and shouted, "Squeezer, Sir."

A professor said the other day that he was told that in Scotland one could tell what part a man came from by asking him to say "Put the cat on the back." Some would say it in the way he himself would say it: "Put the cat on the back."

Others would say it: "Put the ket on the back."

Some would say it: "Put the cat on the back."

Still more would say: "Paught the caught on the back."

"Did you give the man the third degree?" asked the police officer.

"Yes. We browbeat and badgered him with every question we could think of."

"What did he do?"

"He dined off and merely said now and then, 'Yes, my dear, you are perfectly right!'"

Two women were passing a butcher shop where a pig's head was on display, with a lemon in its mouth.

"There 'Liz," exclaimed one of the women, "that reminds me that I promised to get a new pipe for Joe."

Lady: "Hobo, did you notice that pile of wood in the yard?"

"Yes, I seen it."

"You should mind your grammar. You mean you saw it."

"No'm. You saw me see it, but you ain't see me saw it."

"I hear you're moving nearer to London, McTavish. How's that?"

"My crystal set's na head enough."

"Dad," said the beautiful girl, "George and I are two souls with but a single thought."

"Don't let that discourage you," replied her father kindly. "That's one more than your mother and I had when we were married."

Teacher: "What is the interest on a thousand dollars for one year at two per cent? Hector, pay attention!"

Hector: "For two per cent, I'm not interested."

Little Bibbie: "Mother, have I been a good boy lately?"

Mother: "Yes dear, a very good boy."

Bobbie: "And do you trust me, mother?"

Mother: "Why, of course mother trusts you, son?"

WHEAT PRICES WILL PRESENT CHANGED CONDITIONS?

The Toronto Financial Post, in discussing conditions in Western Canada, says that some of the best thinkers among the business and agricultural leaders of the West have already come to the conclusion that Western Canada must face the prospect of some years of low-priced wheat. This year the North American continent alone has grown enough wheat to look after its own needs and the needs of every wheat importing country on the face of the globe. Other wheat-growing countries report favorable conditions. Russia is still out of the picture but will come back in a big way as a wheat growing country as soon as the Soviet government allows freedom of trade and makes it clear that it will not commandeer the farmers' crops.

Low-priced wheat may change the complexion of Western Canada agriculture just as depression in certain sections of the West a few years ago changed the character of farming in those sections. The Western farmer can make money on wheat at a dollar a bushel. But he can make more money on cattle and butter fat at the present prices for those commodities; he can make money on wool and in poultry. The balance has temporarily shifted in agriculture and wheat is not just now the best profit maker for the West. Even in the heart of Saskatchewan's wheat growing lands there are farmers who are reaping rich rewards from the raising of dairy cattle.

The present position will not last a long time and one may easily picture a return of wheat to its former position as the most profitable crop for the West. But the question of wheat will not arise any diminution in the wheat growing in Western Canada. What is almost certain to come through is a greater development in other forms of agriculture.

Present wheat prices may indeed make Western Canada move to a mixed farming country if all interests—business, finance, government, science, and agriculture itself co-operate to that end.

DOES FROST DAMAGE WHEAT VERY MATERIALLY?

The wheat growers in Western Canada are having to meet a condition that will cost them millions of dollars owing to the grades being lowered by the frost in August.

The producers who are getting four and five grades is satisfied that he should be receiving a higher grade. The question also arises: "How much does the frost really affect the real quality of the wheat for milling purposes, and especially when the 'test' damage occurs after the wheat is almost ready to be harvested?"

The matter cannot only be determined by the most careful study and experimentation, and about the only ones that have this information are the people who are purchasers of wheat, and consequently are not over anxious to convey their acquired information so that it may benefit the producer.

The Research Bureau which the Dominion Government is aiding financially might give this matter special attention, and possibly be the means of aiding the western farmer very materially.

E. J. Garland, M.P. possibly might be able to bring his winning way, to hear upon the King Government to give this important work their special attention next session.

HEALTH INSPECTOR GIVES STRATHMORE FAVORABLE REPORT

J. Butterfield, Provincial Health Inspector, recently visited Strathmore, and has forwarded to T. M. Weirs the following very favorable report, which is very creditable to the Mayor, Councilors, and the members of the Local Board of Health, who have given so freely of their time in order to obtain such satisfactory conditions.

Re. Town of Strathmore
A general inspection of the town was carried out and the following conditions noted:

Water Supply
Obtained from drilled and dug wells respectively. The drilled wells are about 160 feet in depth while the shallow ones average about 25 feet. All wells are privately owned and good water is available.

Refuse Disposal
All refuse is hauled to the nuisance ground for disposal. A scavenger is paid by the town to collect the garbage twice monthly. The system is a great improvement and gives better results than leaving the householders to dispose of the refuse as they desire. The yard at the rear of Louie Sing's restaurant has apparently been overlooked by the scavenger, and a large accumulation of refuse was noted. Mr. Shrimpton, Mayor, promised to see that the matter was given attention. The town was otherwise in a satisfactory condition.

Privies
The pit system is used and the structures were found in fair condition.

Nuisance Ground
Situating west of the town on the N.W. 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20 W. 4th. On inspection I found the ground in good condition, the refuse having been destroyed by fire.

Herse Barns
Proprietors, W. and F. Wright. The two barns were in good condition. Most Streets (Dr. Mrs. Gray and P. Cent. St. (previously) both streets, were maintained under very clean conditions.

Hotels (2)—King Edward Hotel, F. Miller; Strathmore Hotel, G. R. Koch. Both places were in a reasonably clean condition, but at the King Edward I found the ritual plumbing work out of order. A written order to have same attended to, was handed to the manager.

Pool Hall—Proprietor, Mr. Hamby. The premises were found in a clean condition.

Laundry—Proprietor, Long Sing. The premises were found in fair condition.

Public School—These premises were found in good condition.

Barber Shops—Two barber shops were inspected and found in good condition.

Slaughter Houses (2)—Operated by local butchers respectively. Great improvements were noted at both places, and conditions were very satisfactory.

Cafes (2)—Proprietors, Louie Sing and H. Williams. Conditions were fairly satisfactory. The cafes in the connection with both hotels were also in order.

J. BUTTERFIELD
Health Inspector

THE NEW NORTH

—O—
Town Council Meeting at

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Schnapp after the town constable had wrestled Councillor Spinks for the bottle of ketchup that the latter had secretly smuggled into the chamber. Councillor Spinks displayed great indignation at what he termed such high handed action and his last words, as he landed on his feet on Jerry McGuire's pile of freshly sawn spruce, were: "I kin knock the block off any major north of fifty-three."

The meeting was called to order again and Councillor West moved a vote of three dollars for new equipment, for the fire brigade. An amendment was offered by Councillor James reducing the amount to two dollars and fifty cents, on the ground that economy had to be the watchword of the council and anyway twenty-five was plenty to pay for a new handle to the pump.

Councillor Mullan moved a message of condolence to the King of Siam on account of him having the flu. Councillor Bellevue thought this was getting a bit outside of the council's territory and added that such votes could only be passed on judicial days, which floored the boys and the matter was dropped. Hank Peterson, Athabasca's third leading citizen, appeared as a delegate to inquire why the Town Council had permitted the supply of chewing tobacco to run low. He showed it was a cock-eyed body of legislators, that couldn't see any further than that in providing for the town's growth. Councillor Hyman Wrege made a loud speech on whistlers. He wanted a law passed again, barbers, claiming they would make the town look like the rest of the country, and if there was one thing the north should do, it was to retain its individuality and whistlers.

On the same ground he wanted the recently appointed city clerk run out of town unless he quit whistling, which Hyman Wrege refused to feelingly as "dude doodads". No action was taken by the council, and both matters were referred to the City Solicitor for report, providing he could be found.
